An Online Workshop on
Body language “The truth unfolded”
On 16-04-22
Organised by: - DOVS: BCA

The expression “actions speak louder than words” holds very true, especially during job interviews. The way you present yourself leaves a significant impact on your interviewer.

Discussing in the same context an online workshop on body language was organised by Department of Vocational Studies: BCA on 16-04-22. The key speaker and of the day were Dr. Shalini Sharma, the Associate professor from GNIOT INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT STUDIES.

The programme started with the welcome address by Prof Pushpa Tewari, Co-Coordinator of BCA. She also opened the topic and discussed in brief about the importance of body language in any communication. She talked how Body language in a job interview gives the interviewer a great deal of information that is not conveyed by the spoken word alone and it reveals whether the candidate is confident, goal-oriented, and focused – or indeed, whether the candidate might actually be getting bored, insecure, or nervous.

The next speaker of the work shop was Dr Sanjay Prasad, Principal Guru Nanak College, Dhanbad and in his brief talk he said that it is indeed one of the most important topics we can discuss about in today’s context since most of us were masked within our home in these two years and with extreme practising of social distancing we more need to work on our personality grooming.

Finally, the resource person Dr Shalini Sharma took the session through PowerPoint Presentation and she talked in detail about the points to ponder while appearing in the interview and how to have a composed body language. Body language in any communication especially interviews set the foundation for people to communicate with others on a deeper level. From your facial expressions to your body movements, the things that you don't say can often convey some of the largest volumes of information. Body language boils down to what you're communicating without speaking. These nonverbal cues can include your posture and eye contact (or lack thereof) as well as toe tapping, pen clicking, and other common actions you may not think about.

The session lasted for two hours and ended with the vote of thanks proposed by Prof Uday Kumar Sinha, Asst. Prof DOVS: BCA.

The session was attended by Co-ordinator BCA and Prof-In-Charge Girls' Wing Dr Ranjana Das, Prof-In-Charge Boys' Wing Prof Amarjeet Singh, Prof Sanjay Sinha, Dr Meena Malkhandi, Dr Varsha Singh, Prof Sadhna, Prof Piyush, Nushrat. Total 95 students from various faculties of the college attended the workshop and got benefitted.
