Project Report

Semester-VI, BCA, Session: 2020-23
Project Training on MERN and stack development

As technology continues to evolve, MERN stands out as a powerful tool for creating modern and dynamic web applications. Its flexibility, scalability, and ability to handle both frontend and backend development suggest a bright future for MERN in shaping the next phase of web development. Due to its versatility, open-source nature and high demand in the web development industry, the students of BCA were provided 1 month training in MERN Stack Development as a part of their "Project Training" Paper, which is compulsory component in 6th semester of BCA Programme.

After completion of the training, the students developed an application using MERN Stack. The topics and list of students are detailed below.
