

GURU NANAK COLLEGE, DHANBAD
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
Departmental Seminar
Venue: RUSA SEMINAR HALL, BHUDA CAMPUS
Date: 27th January 2025

On Monday, 27th January 2025, the English Department of Guru Nanak College in Dhanbad organized a departmental seminar. The Project Based seminar commenced in the presence of Head of the Department, Professor Amarjit Singh.

Dr. Varsha Singh coordinated and executed the seminar in which the following students from the department presented their insightful observations on their allotted topics through PowerPoint presentations.

- 1) Aparna Roy - Existentialism in Modern Theatre: A Philosophical Exploration
- 2) Muskan Singh- The Cognitive Effects of Fairy Tales on Early Childhood Development by
- 3) Anshika Burnwal - World War I's Influence on Modernist Novel Form and Content
- 4) Rounak Kumar - Stream of Consciousness: A Literary Innovation by Virginia Woolf and Joyce
- 5) Riya Shaw- Thematic Parallels Between Shakespeare and Bollywood Cinema: A Study
- 6) Priya Singh - The Effect of the World Wars on Literature and Narrative Forms: A Study
- 7) Priyasha Pal - The Rise of Modernism and Its Impact on Narrative Form: A Study
- 8) Shristy Priya - Literature and Identity in the Digital Age: Social Media as Narrative
- 9) Mayank Tomar - Exploring the Themes of War and Peace in 20th-Century Literature
- 10) Md. Saif- The Impact of Fairy Tales on Shaping Gender Roles in Youth
- 11) Sneha Kumari - Storytelling Across Cultures: Oral Traditions vs. Written Literature

Following the presentations, Professor Amarjit Singh and Dr. Varsha Singh provided valuable feedback to the students, offering suggestions for improving their presentations. Other faculty members including, Ms Ghanishtha Verma, Ms Surabhi Kashyap, and Ms Rashi Poddar were actively present during the session.

The seminar lasted for approximately three hours and was conducted in two sessions, during which students from semester 5 of the department participated with enthusiasm and contributed to making the event a huge success.

Photo Gallery:

